The flying is a helluva lot of fun. The parts where you're not flying, not so much, but you barely have to deal with it. And the flying itself is pretty unique and different; really made to work well for handling in VR. It's not really a game with a goal, but gives you a solid idea of what flying mechanics can be done in VR, so enjoy the casual flying.. This game is actually pretty good. I bought it because it was cheap and I'm poor. However I would definitely pay more for this game. Just beware that this is pretty challenging.. Brilliant, Hyped!. When i bought this game, i expected an idle game.

In fact it have nothing to do with this, you just have to click on moving images before they hit you. When you clicked enough images, you get to the next stage and have to do the same thing with different decorations.

Yes, there is money in the game, but it's really secondary, almost useless.

If i wanted an idle game, it's because i like infinite games, keeping me "busy" for hours with minimal concentration. This game is the opposite.

I finished the game in 22 minutes. Once i clicked things over the 10 stages i got a "Congratulation" message and an invitation to play survival mode (it's the same thing but you're not enable to win, just loose when not fast enough to click images).

I'm not saying this game is bad (i did not said it's good either :p) but i want to warn people who can think buying an idle-clicker-infinite-incremental game. The steam store page of the game is misleading about the nature of the game.

Since i finished the game in 22 minutes and have no reasons to launch it again, i asked a refund.

I'm not hating or anything, but i can't understand why this game have so many positive reviews, it has literally 0 content.

It could be developed by one man in one day and the hardest part would be the drawings ...

Sorry, but i got disapointed. Trailer is better than the "game".. This game is great fun. There is a learning curve, but you will likely get the hang of it after a few hours. They've updated the game with a tutorial, too. There are many great players to play with and against. Once in a while you may also come across a special breed of players who are attracted to soccer games but don't know how to pass, don't know the offside rule and want to take the ball from friend or foe whatever it takes.

This is my son's favorite game since it allows him to destroy buildings in a very G-rated fashion. It's a well-done indie game, but it crashes whenever the robo dinosaur spews too many flames.

Updated on 6/9/18:

This game appears finished and stable. My youngest son still plays this and the devs have finally fixed the bugs that caused it to crash with the larger robot vehicles. I'm extremely happy that the devs kept this game alive, adding custom map features and game modes. 10/10. another very short game. but it was a good one if you like the find it adventures. Touch Down Football Solitaire is a very enjoyable solitaire game and I do love a good solitaire game. Good mini games that doesn't mess up the flow of the game til you get to the final few matches. Highly recommend this game and can't wait for the Soccer version to come out. Two thumbs way up.. It's good if u like cars.

good mods

isi make good car in the game and Rfacot 2. This was a solid experience, but could use some improvements. But as others have said, don't go into it expecting "gameplay". You basically can roam around a couple environments, and interact with a few objects (i.e. fire cannons).

Positives:

-Great Graphics/Visuals

-Several Interesting and unexpected interactions

-Boobies

Negatives:

-Needs further optimization. i5 4690K and R9 390 were not enough to be completely judder free in all areas. Island was especially bad.

-$10 seems steep for the lack of replay value

-Controls could be improved, and maybe add a pause menu with controls listed.
